

1976 Class Notes Archives

Yearbook photos: Class of '76 in Terminale: Click here

----- From December 2012 AALFNY Newsletter -----

• Michèle Huff wrote: "It's been so long that I don't know where to start. My early years at the Lycée provided a valuable knowledge base, especially understanding linguistic and cultural differences. I went on to college and graduate school, finally landing as a lawyer in Northern California. I practiced intellectual property and technology licensing law for eight years at Sun Microsystems, working 80 hour weeks and making a six-figure salary. And then in 1995, at the pinnacle of a stellar career —promoted to director, supporting the Java team—I had an epiphany. Climbing the corporate ladder wasn't getting me anywhere.

I quit my job and moved to Taos, New Mexico where I spent three luxurious years writing, hiking, taking trips, and daydreaming. This is the time I began exploring Buddhism and the Chinese martial arts. I also worked for Canal+, using my French language skills to help negotiate a deal between their interactive TV division and a Colorado media company. At the turn of the century, the pull of Silicon Valley proved too strong and I co-founded a software start-up, not as a lawyer but as its business development director. The job didn't last long; the events of 9/11 caused an untimely merger of the company.

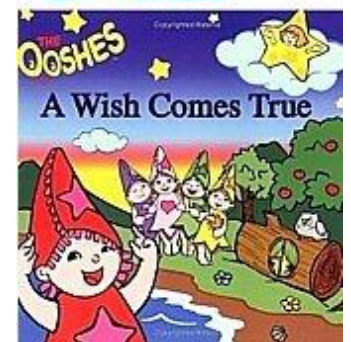

I was a bit lost, so I returned to Santa Fe, New Mexico and attended oriental medicine school for a semester. I forced myself to take the Bar and started my own law firm. After several years of helping technology and creative clients with their licensing and intellectual property issues, I found a job at the University of New Mexico, which is where I work today. I teach, mentor, and volunteer in my spare time. You can read more at LinkedIn: profilehttps://www.linkedin.com/pub/mich%C3%A8le-huff/2/a12/3bb

The most amazing news is that after many years, my first book is being published. It's based on my experiences negotiating, combined with the lessons learned from Buddhist practice and Chinese energy work. The book comes out in April, but is available now for pre-order on Amazon [Click on link below]

The next year will be devoted to giving workshops on negotiation (and intellectual property or licensing) at business, engineering, and law schools, legal and business incubation associations, technological, entrepreneurial, or educational events, non-profits, libraries, art schools or collaboratives, spiritual institutes,

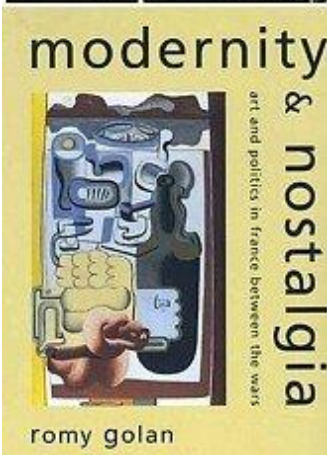

TOP: Denis Logerot ('76);
MIDDLE: Gabrielle Bamford ('76);
BOTTOM: Milena Gosselin

Lavinia (Branca) Snyder ('76) and one of her books

anywhere people need help learning and practicing these skills. My idea is to include a copy of the book in the workshop price, but not to charge the organization for my time. Then I would try to add a book signing at a local, independent bookstore in the area. If you know of any possible venues or candidates, please send me an email at mhuff9@earthlink.net. I would love to hear from you. And if you are planning a trip to New Mexico, please let me know. A bientot."

Romy Golan ('76) and her book

- Marc Jensen ('76) sent us a fascinating account of his training aboard L'Hermione "a replica of the 216ft frigate that brought La Fayette to the American Colonies with word of King Louis XVI's support of the revolution." Marc intends to be part of the crew on its voyage across the Atlantic starting April 18th, 2015. Click [HERE to read the article]

- Judy (Kameny) Applebaum told us that she "is doing voiceovers, as well as film work. If you've heard commercials for Premio Sausage, Newsday, Carebooker, or Scholastic, it may be her voice you've been listening to! You can hear her at voice123.com/judykameny." (Click HERE)

- Denis Logerot: « Depuis toujours attiré par les animaux de toutes sortes, je deviens vétérinaire en 1981 et m'installe dans l'Ouest de la Lorraine (plus précisément en Meuse); je pratique déjà la photographie, et mes activités de loisirs sont orientées vers la Nature. Plus tard je passe le brevet de pilote ULM, catégorie multiaxes (avions ultralégers), autre activité qui m'attirait par le regard différent que le vol permet d'avoir sur la Nature. Mes sujets photographiques préférés sont les animaux en liberté dans leur milieu, les paysages dans lesquels l'Homme sait se montrer discret, et d'une manière générale tout ce qui témoigne de la beauté et de la diversité de la Nature.

Logiquement amené à conjuguer vol et photographie, je suis contacté en 2002 par Réseau Ferré de France (RFF) pour un reportage photographique aérien sur le gigantesque chantier de la LGV Est (trois cents km de chantier comportant un ouvrage d'art tous les km). Je crée alors "Photargonne", petite entreprise me permettant la commercialisation de mes images. Ce reportage fut le premier d'une série se terminant en 2006 avec la fin du chantier. Je suis équipé en matériel de prise de vues numériques, ce qui offre l'avantage, entre autres, de contrôler mes images jusqu'au tirage papier final. Je pratique également la photographie aérienne pour d'autres entreprises (site web, illustration en communication), pour des collectivités territoriales (Communes ou Communautés de Communes), pour des particuliers désirant des vues aériennes de leur propriété, mais aussi et bien sûr pour mon plaisir personnel. » (<http://www.denislogerot-photargonne.com/auteur/index.asp>)

- Lavinia Branca Snyder "is a New York City based writer, photographer and digital artist. Her professional career began as a designer of illustrated photographic books in the early eighties. She began experimenting with digital images in the early nineties, developing the concept for three series of children's books that combined her photographs with hand drawn characters. She has written and illustrated 12 children's books under the imprint of Lavinia's World and designed a plush toy collection: The Ooshes.

TOP: Yves Galland ('76);
BOTTOM: Samuel Kaplan ('76)

2005: Creative Child Magazine's Preferred Choice Award in the Character and Book category: Lavinia's cartoon won a place as a finalist in the Mipcom Jr. License Competition at Cannes. 2006: Her book was named Book of the year by Creative Child Magazine. In 2007 Lavinia started focusing on her art and began submitting her work- both photographs and digital assemblages- to competitions and produce pieces for exhibition.” (<http://www.kiptonart.com/artists/lavinia-snyder/>)

● Professor Romy Golan [of the Graduate Center at CUNY] “has previously taught at Vassar College and Yale University. She has curated exhibitions and written catalogue essays for museums in the U.S., France, and Canada. She received the Samuel and Ronnie Heyman Prize for outstanding scholarly publication by Junior Faculty Members of the Humanities at Yale for her book Modernity and Nostalgia: Art and Politics in France between the Wars (Yale Univ. Press, 1995) and the Henry Allen Moe Prize for Catalogues of Distinction in the Arts for co-authorship of The Circle of Montparnasse: Jewish Artists in Paris 1905-1945 at the Jewish Museum (New York, 1985). She is currently working on a book on Italian art from 1943-1973.” (<http://www.gc.cuny.edu/Page-Elements/Academics-Research-Centers-Initiatives/Doctoral-Programs/Art-History/Faculty-Bios/Romy-Golan>)

----- From December 2012 AALFNY Newsletter -----

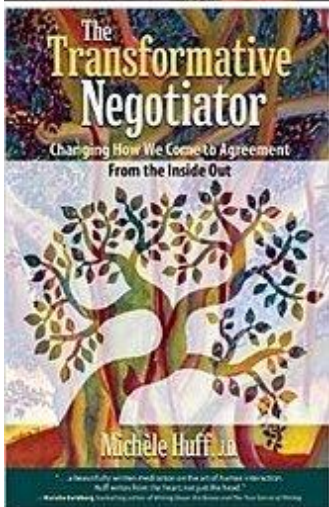

In Memoriam:

● Sharon Lissauer († June 2012)
(See in memoriam section of this newsletter for further details)

● Alumni from the class of '76 held a reunion in Paris on November 10, 2012.

● Lisiane Droal "has 24 years of experience in HR management at an international level, including 18 in high tech companies. Before joining Hightech Partners, she was EVP Global Human Resources and Member of the Executive Committee of Ipsos, a publicly traded Market research company.....Prior to that, she spent 11 years at AOL/Time Warner which she joined as Director HR Europe for Netscape.....Prior to this, she worked at Apple for 7 years where she held pan-European roles in executive recruitment, internal communications and management development..... She holds degrees in Clinical Psychology (Sorbonne René Descartes University, Paris), Occupational Psychology and in HR & Organizational Development (Columbia University, New York). She is both American and French, and lives in Paris." (hightechpartners.com)

● Alice Harrison wrote: "I am now the Convenor (and have been for a few years) of the UN Staff 1% for Development Fund. As such I recently ran into Joshua Cohen ('68), mari de Pat Duffy, at a fund-raising book reading given by the fund. We discussed life after the Lycée in American colleges which is quite amazing because we both graduated about 30 years ago. What I really want to tell you is I have written a novel, my first on Mid-Manhattan, and should be self-publishing it through Amazon. HOWEVER, if any of you know of a literary agent or publisher who would like to read another book, MY book, svp fais-moi suivre."

Michèle Huff ('76) and her book

TOP: Lisiane Droal ('76); BOTTOM: Olivier Martin ('76)

- Michael Ramon nous écrit: "J'habite et je pratique la chiropractique sur l'île de Noirmoutier. Je suis divorcé depuis 7 ans, à la recherche de l'âme sœur. Je suis papa de 3 grandes filles."

- Olivier Martin est "Professeur de Physique, Université Paris-Sud, Orsay. [Il a été] été Vice-Président Recherche du Département de Physique de l'UFR d'Orsay pendant 3,5 années. [Il est] détaché à l'INRA. [Son] activité de recherche se concentre sur les réseaux biologiques, la méiose, les méthodes algorithmiques et les applications à la biologie des systèmes....." (<http://lptms.u-psud.fr/membres/martino/>)

- Jenny Skoble wrote: "I live in Los Angeles and I have started my own law practice representing nonprofit organizations."

----- From December 2011 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Michael Ramon wrote: "I am practicing as a chiropractor on the island of Noirmoutier, in the Vendée region, Atlantic coast of France. I graduated in Toronto, Canada. In 1986. I am divorced since 2005, and am the father of three girls, ages 16, 20 and 21. My website is www.chiroatlas.com"

- Jenny Skoble wrote: "I am starting my own law practice, specializing in providing counsel to nonprofit organizations on issues including obtaining and maintaining tax-exempt status, fiduciary duties of boards, employment issues, lobbying, best practices in fundraising and co-ventures. I will also consult on foundation grants. It's exciting and scary. Tough times call for extreme measures!"

- Maria Blacque-Belair "founder and executive director [of The Refugee Immigrant Fund], is a licensed clinical social worker with about twenty years experience in international and domestic refugee work. Her clinical speciality is war and refugee trauma. She worked as a humanitarian relief worker in Iraq, Bosnia, Romania and Rwanda. She established the RIF Asylum Help Center in 2006. In addition to functioning as the coordinator of the program, Maria also provides direct psychosocial services (Psychological affidavits for asylum hearings, and counseling). She speaks English, French and Spanish." (asylumhelp.org)

----- From November 2010 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Avis de Décès: Fadhima Thiam ('76) informed us that Audrey Bodner passed away on August 9, 2010. See in Memoriam section of this newsletter for further details.

- Isabelle (Baudry) McDonald wrote: "We just moved to Lexington MA after 18 years in Montclair NJ. All 3

TOP: Marc Jensen ('76);
BOTTOM: Caroline Van der
Klaauw ('76)

TOP: Alice Harrison ('76);
BOTTOM: Veronique
Dickhaut Richards ('76)

kids out of the house. Starting the empty nest years and having lots of fun!"

● Nicolas Haimo wrote: " I will be performing at the Lycée Francais for the fall festival with my 7 piece band THE BLUE STRAW BERRIES! The show is between 2 and 3PM on the 13th of November....This soulful and multi cultural band plays a variety of styles ranging from Rock to Jazz with little Country in between. Music and fun for children of all ages! Hope you can make it to the show. There is a $5.00 donation to the school and the band will be donating its performance. See you there!" (To preview some of Nicolas' songs, click on link below)

----- From December 2009 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Avis de Décès: Alexander George ('76) informed us that Dominique Ghossein passed away on October 27, 2003. Subsequently ASSABIL (Association des amis des bibliothèques publiques, Beirut, Lebanon) "established the Dominique Ghossein Prize which is given to an unpublished Lebanese author for an original piece of Arabic fictional writing for young people. [It] is named for Dominique Ghossein -a voracious reader- who died tragically in the United States in 2003." (assabil.com/documents/pdf)

In addition, the NYC Council introduced legislation "known as Dominique's Law, [which] would secure equivalent rights such as health insurance, family-benefit leave and bereavement leave for same-sex partners of those employed by vendors and contractors who do business of $100,000 or more with the city. The equal-benefits bill was named after Dominique Ghossein, a deceased New York lawyer whose partner, Leslie Thrope, was denied medical leave to care for Ghossein..."

(http://www.thevillager.com/villager_60/councilsettooverride.html)

● Fadhima Thiam became a member of the Board of Directors of the Goddard Riverside Community center in late 2007. She is "a native of Mali, Africa, [and] came with her parents to the United States in 1964. Her affiliation with Goddard Riverside began when she enrolled her daughter in its Head Start program and became involved for the program citywide, eventually earning a seat in the NYC Policy Council at the Head Start Headquarters. She has also been a translator and interpreter in New York courts and has worked with human rights organizations assisting immigrant families." (goddard.org)

● What Would Socrates Say?: Philosophers Tackle Questions About Love, Nothingness, and Everything Else, Edited by Alexander George "Since its inception two years ago, more than 3,000 questions from doctors, lawyers, immigrants and children have been posed on AskPhilosophers.org. Creator Alexander George, a professor of philosophy at Amherst College, has here compiled some of the site's most intriguing and widely relevant Q&As, covering, in the "grand tradition of human reflection," perennial topics like death, love, ethics and the origins of each. More than that, George seeks to make clear that philosophy is, indeed, for the thinking person, but that everyone is a thinking person. Organized broadly into four parts, entitled "What can I know?", "What ought I to do?", "What may I hope?" and "What is man?", the answer to each question ("Why isn't it just as good to be happy as to be sad?") is attributed to one of 22 contributing professors, who do a

TOP: Andrew Bausili;
BOTTOM (left to right):
Sharon Kahn ('76), Fadhima
Thiam ('76), Jenny Skoble
('76) (NYC, December 2011)

TOP: Brigitte Briand ('76);
BOTTOM: Charles Dale ('76)

TOP: Xavier Noel's ('76) firm has been and continues to be one of our most generous supporters; MIDDLE: Alexander George ('76) : BOTTOM: Fadhima Thiam ('76)

fine job, in short passages, of establishing a personal link to what could otherwise seem distant or abstract theory. Questions range from the near-universal ("If God's will is ultimately unknowable, then how can we know what is morally right?") to the situation-specific ("Is it morally wrong to tell children that Santa exists?") to the cheekily subversive ("Should the tolerant tolerate intolerance?"); there's lots of material here to enlighten and provoke, especially for those just getting their Socratic sea legs."

----- From January 2009 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Béatrice Gassie nous écrit: "Bonjour à tous. J'ai l'intention de me rendre aux USA l'été 2009 avec ma fille de 17 ans pendant 3 semaines; si des personnes que j'ai pu rencontrer lors de ma scolarité au LFNY , sont disponibles à cette période, je serai ravie de vous revoir (mon circuit prévisionnel : washington, philadelphia, nyc, boston) Je compte également rendre visite au LFNY (72 et 95 ème rues) merci de me contacter sur mon adresse e mail, betty2tlse [at] hotmail.fr ; pour me donner vos disponibilités et coordonnées, à très bientôt, j'espère"

----- From July 2008 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Avis de Décès: Jean-Marc Jacot ('75) informed us that Philippe Szabo ('76) (1958-2008), died on February 2, 2008 in the Department of Le Gard, Southern France. (See In Memoriam section of this newsletter for further details)

● Jenny Skoble wrote: "I just joined the board of directors (le conseil d'administration) of the Alliance Française of Los Angeles, so I will be doing my best to spread French culture in this wasteland. In case anyone has some time to waste, I have a blog: it's mostly commentary about the absurdities of life in the U.S., but I think I will also be adding some of my fiction writing." (Click here to access Jenny's blog)

● Viviane Marescot wrote: "Dear friends, dear Alumni:
A vous de saisir 'La Viviana' Un Reve en Liberte! I've recently purchased the Gov. Herbert H. Lehman Staten Island Ferry boat, one of the three JFK Class boats: 297 feet (91m) long and 69 feet, 10 inches (21,3m) wide, with a draft of 13 feet, 6 inches (4.1m), weight of 2,109 gross tons. It may be serviced to the speed of 16 knots (30km/h), it can carry 2500 passengers on the second and third decks, and 40 vehicles on the first deck. I'm renaming the boat "La Viviana". She is unique and a fountain of inspiration to me and my husband Jacques A. Guillet. I am so moved by its majestic stand in its beauty and associations with the uniqueness of New York's eternal icons that I have the feeling of floating in a fairy tale. At this point my husband and I are studying different business projects. We have encountered prospective sponsors in show business interested in chartering the boat. Our first option was to use it for student housing and we estimated we could build up to 60 studios/apartments for students and professors as a human-led based service: I thought that given the real estate crisis the City is only beginning to face, I would like to give back something to the City and its vicinity.

TOP: Dan Thu Nguyen ('76); MIDDLE: Jenny Skoble ('76); BOTTOM: Nicky Haimo ('76)

I've heard some Universities have to turn back many prospective students because they cannot afford housing costs. Should you be interested in any of the ideas above do not hesitate to contact me on my email [obtainable from the AALFNY upon request]. Life's a venture, I love my boat, and New York is never more beautiful than seen from the water, so let 'La Viviana' show it to you from where she's actually sitting in Staten Island."

----- From June 2007 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- The class of '76 held a reunion in NYC in September 2007. For details, click here.

TOP: Oliver Le Lay ('76);
MIDDLE: Isabelle Bassette ('76);
BOTTOM: Maria Blacque-Belair ('76)

- In response to the invitation to the September 29th class of '76 reunion in NYC, Eric Petermann wrote: "What a surprise to read all those names of people, some of which I've forgotten, some whom I've known since 1964 or 1965, like Marc Jensen whom I saw last January, or Nicky Haimo and Alexandra (Giurgiu) Piol- whom I haven't seen since '76 or even earlier than that (wow: I thought Claude Falchier had simply vanished). Is Judith Appelbaum actually Judy Kameny who is also one of my "early years" classmates (even before the Beatles were singing Yesterday)? All of this brings back some memories and we have reached that age where we start looking back.

I've recently moved to Nouméa, New Caledonia, in the south Pacific -and it is just so far away from everywhere that despite being tempted with catching up on all these people who share that cosmopolitan and multidimensional view of the world that LFNY education brought us, it is just too long of a trip - I should say voyage - to come and meet you all. So to be forgiven herewith a recent picture of me chatting with a skipper who is attempting an around the world record with his brand new trimaran."

TOP: Eric Petermann ('76);
BOTTOM: Maria Blacque-Belair ('76) & Jean-Marc-Jacot ('75) (Paris, October 2007)

- Jenny Skoble also wrote about that reunion: "J'ai voyagé de Los Angeles à New York pour participer à la reunion chez Alexandra Giurgiu Piol. C'était vraiment un voyage dans le temps, parce que, en plus, Alexandra habite la meme maison à coté du Lycée (ou, je devrais dire, à coté d'ou etait le lycée) ou on a passé bien d'apres-midis ensemble." Jenny also sent us a hilarious parody of our class notes. To read it, click on link below.

TOP: Beatrice de Lataillade ('76);
BOTTOM: Michael Ramon ('76)

- Isabelle (Baudry) McDonald wrote: "I had the pleasure of seeing both Emmanuel Jaeger and Frederica Adelman this summer. Emmanuel is a succesful violinist and conductor in Paris. He is headed to Shang Hai to perform with the Shang Hai symphony orchestra on Nov. 25th, 2007. He has two children-- Jeremy, age 13 and Sonia age 15. He would love to come to the next class reunion especially if it is in Paris. This is something we all talked about at our most recent get together at Alexandra Giurgiu- Piol's house. These years have flown by!"

- Beatrice Gassie nous écrit: "Bonjour à tous, merci pour les informations des anciens, cela fait chaud au coeur d'avoir des nouvelles...Depuis que j'ai découvert le site, je souhaite vivement retrouver mes anciennes connaissances. Après des études de langue, je suis partie travailler en Grande Bretagne et en Allemagne. J'ai repris des études et maintenant je travaille dans le secteur social. J'ai séjourné à Pau, en Dordogne et maintenant je suis installée à Toulouse. J'ai une fille de 16 ans, Annabel, qui voudrait bien découvrir les endroits fréquentés par sa mère et ses anciennes relations ! J'attends de vos nouvelles et surtout de vous retrouver, pour ceux qui se rappellent de la petite Française de l'époque (mes parents sont basques et landais)....à très bientôt....amicalement, Béatrice"

- Maria Blacque-Belair provides legal orientation and psycho-social support at RIF Asylum Help, an organization whose mission is to "help refugees fleeing war, persecution and torture, start a new life in New York..." Her website was designed by her classmate and good friend Michel Lepeltier ('76).

----- From June 2007 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- "Ivan Auger is a Research Scientist and the Director of the Wadsworth Center's Computational Molecular Biology and Statistics Core Facility. His research interests include sequence analysis, protein structure prediction, and algorithms for Bayesian Bioinformatics." (Wadsworth Center, Center for Bioinformatics, <http://www.wadsworth.org/resnres/bioinfo/people.html>)

- Jean Baum is a Professor in the Rutgers University Department of Chemistry and Chemical Biology.

TOP: Audrey Bodner ('76);
MIDDLE: Veronique (Richards) Dickhaut ('76);
BOTTOM: Xavier Noel ('76)

TOP: by Alexander George ('76); BOTTOM: Sergio Thompson-Flores ('76)

● "Through drawings and paintings, Daniele Erville gives visual form to the innermost states of being -feeling states, the spirit, life transitions- letting images present themselves through intuitive shapes and colors. Daniele studied art and photography at Clark University, Massachusetts. She attended Maryland Institute, College of Art, in Baltimore, and earned a degree in drawing and painting at the School of the Museum of Fine Arts, in Boston. Daniele has exhibited in the South of France, New England, and the Bay Area."

<http://indybay.org/newsitems/2006/12/11/18336779.php>

● "Judy Kameny: A trained musician since the age of five, Judy initially honed her listening skills as a concert pianist. After graduate school, she 'stumbled into radio', when a station manager heard her and liked her voice. When she moved back to New York, voice-overs seemed like a natural continuation of what she had been doing. 'I was a teacher for many years before I got into voice work, so I jumped at the chance to do voice-over coaching.' These days, Judy happily juggles life with her husband, her son, coaching, studying foreign languages, playing the piano and contra-dancing." (edgestudio.com)

----- From December 2006 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Sérgio Schiller Thompson-Flores "is founder of Worldinvest, a leading Brazilian financial advisory firm. As President of Worldinvest, Mr. Thompson-Flores has assisted dozens of industrial and Internet companies in the fields of project finance, venture capital and financial engineering, including Business Development and M&A work for the portal Zip.Net and for the e-security solutions provider Módulo. He also serves or served on the boards of several private and state owned companies. Mr. Thompson-Flores is an expert in project finance, venture capital and financial engineering. Prior to founding Worldinvest, Mr. Thompson-Flores was a career diplomat in Brazil, having led international trade negotiations in several industries and acted as a key participant in government executive groups. From 1991 to 1994, he was the finance and investment director of FINEP, a federal development bank., having analyzed more than 750 projects. Mr. Thompson-Flores holds a B.A. and a M.A. in International Relations." (zoominfo.com)

----- From February 2006 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Eric Petermann shared this with us, about himself and several classmates: "I'm currently living in France near Strasbourg. Married and father of three children who love to sift through the old LFNY yearbooks when dad was at school and wore that awesome uniform. I work for France's national weather service. It's nice to read class notes from old friends like Alexandra Giurgiu, Karine Lestelle and Isabelle Beaudry. Other class of '76 info: I lost track of Emmanuel Jaeger (sorry Isabelle !) but Olivier Martin is alive and well and living near Paris. He's a physics research director and is married with two children. Nicolas Haimo lives in Paris and is a professional musician (news given by Marc Jensen). Denis Logerot is a vet-doctor, lives in eastern France and likes to take pictures from his ultra-light hang-glider-plane (but I haven't seen him in 25 years)."

TOP: Danielle Erville ('76); BOTTOM: CD album by Nick Haimo's band

● From Jenny Skoble: "I am an attorney in Los Angeles, California, representing children who have been removed from their families due to abuse and neglect. I am married to Lou Levinson, and we are the parents of Eli, age 10. I am trying to figure out how to teach him French - all the French stuff in LA is way over on the Westside! Any old classmates, please email or call me."

----- From June 2005 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Maria Blacque-Belair wrote: "Would love to say hello to all my old pals of that year (still in touch with Beatrice de laTaillade et Julie Bloom. I live in NY, married with 2 five years old twins, a boy and girl, Sami and Maia. I work with refugees, which is my passion and led me to humanitarian work in many war zones. If anybody would like to get in touch, please contact me at [email address available upon request]"

[Editor's Note: Maria actually worked as an emergency relief worker in Bosnia between 1992 and 1996. She was quoted in 'Another Day in Paradise: International Humanitarian Workers Tell Their Stories', an anthology of stories by humanitarian workers from around the world:

"I became friendly with the people on the street – an old woman, a young boy. And without these attachments I don't know how I would have gotten through these four years. The war was personal for me. Some might say I over-identify and that I suffer from bystander guilt. I know this is true. When I am next to people who are suffering, I must do something. I have no choice. I feel so lucky that this is not my family, not my grandmother, not my mother. And this is the motivation for action. I really think that I didn't have post-traumatic stress or even burn-out because of this, because of my relationships and my passion for the work. It was tiring and dangerous, but the feedback was knowing we made a difference even in one person's life was so satisfying."]

----- From Winter 2004 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Isabelle (Baudry) McDonald wrote: "I am married with 3 children : Alex age 17, Katherine age 15, Emily age 12. I am living and working in Montclair, NJ as a Learning Disabilities Specialist in private practice. I had dinner with another classmate Frederica Adelman about 6 months ago. We had not seen each other in about 25 years . It's amazing how the years are flying by. I have totally lost touch with the majority of my classmates unfortunately but have quite good memories of my four years at the Lycee and the terror of preparing for the dreaded Bacheo."

----- From Winter 2003-2004 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Karin Lestelle wrote: "Based in Stamford, Connecticut, I practice immigration law with firm of Fragomen, Del Rey, Bernsen & Loewy, a law firm specializing in the area of global immigration and nationality law for the corporate sector. Our firm provides immigration services worldwide to multinational corporations, emerging companies and other major organizations that employ foreign nationals on a temporary or permanent basis in

TOP: Judy (Kameny)
Applebaum ('76);
BOTTOM: Beatrice Gassie
('76)

the United States or overseas.”

----- From Winter 2002/2003 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Isabelle (Baudry) McDonald writes: "I now have 3 children: Alex age 14, Katherine age 12 and Emily age 10. Would love to hear from Freddie Adelman, Jean Baum, Denis Logerot, Emmanuel Jaeger and more."

----- From November/December 2001 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Maria Blacque-Belair writes: "Great to find out about this website. Life has been great so far. I have done humanitarian work in Bosnia, Iraq, Africa and returned to NY four years ago. Working with refugees in the city. I have just adopted two beautiful twins, Sami and Maia (16 months) and they are the joy of our lives (with John, my husband). Pascal, my brother, is in NY and is expecting a little one next Feb. Hope to hear from some of you soon."

----- From July/August 2001 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Judy (Kameny) Applebaum and her husband Mitch welcomed Jason Aaron into the world on September 16, 2000. Judy lives in New York after having been an on-air host and producer in radio for many years in the midwest, and is currently active as a pianist and voice-over artist.

- Elizabeth Weeden est à New York.

- Alexandra Giurgiu Piol sent us this email message from the Lycée's development office. "I am very pleased to be involved at the Lycée Français de New York as a parent, an alumna and now as President of the Alumni Board. The Lycée is a very special place for me. My two sisters Ilona de Garcia '74 and Florica Giurgiu '75 and my brother, Dan Giurgiu '81 are all Lycée graduates. I believe that the Lycée gave me many gifts - ones that I have carried throughout my lifetime. They include a background in multiculturalism and a readiness to respect others and their differences. I am especially pleased that I have been able to pass these gifts on to my children. My daughter Serena and I shared the same first grade teacher - Madame Liliane Carriglio. Although she has recently retired, Madame Carriglio imparted to my daughter all the special knowledge that I remember her for - specifically an introduction to great artists such as Picasso and Modigliani. My daughter also studied in the same classroom which her aunt occupied for 6th grade and that I spent my 4th grade year in. (I shouldn't fail to mention that I got married at 95th Street!

----- From February/March 2001 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Nicolas Haimo lives in Paris. He is a rock musician (rock) and lives from his music, including some recent success composing tunes for ad campaigns.

----- From November/December 2000 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Eric Martin lives in Dijon where he is running the Centre Évolution. He practices and teaches Shiatsu acupressure, and gives workshops on many related topics, such as Feng Shui and other body-mind-spirit holistic health activities.

----- From March 2000 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Judith Kameny Applebaum has recently moved back to NYC and, in August '99, she married Mitch Applebaum; she is now pursuing a career in voice-overs.