----- From December 2014 AALFNY Newsletter

● Dr. Marie-Caroline Piché referred us to her website, which says: ".....I am a family practice physician and recently became an Arbonne consultant. I am a mother of three children, Jean-Sébastien (10), Sarah-Frédérique(8) and Emilie-Rose (6). I am originally from Montréal, Québec. I live in the United States since 2003 and became a US citizen in 2012....." (Click here to access her website)

● Dr. Sophie Bartsich wrote: "After obtaining a graduate degree in design, I traveled a bit, then decided to go to medical school after all. In the end, I found a way to pursue medicine without sacrificing my creativity: plastic surgery. I am currently in practice on the upper east side, and affiliated with New York Presbyterian and Lenox Hill hospitals. As a new mom, I long to reconnect with my Lycée family and rejoin it as a parent. I would also be delighted to provide my services for any students, families, or staff that may require them. A bientôt!"

● Dr. Stéphanie (Benzaquen) Levey sent us this update: "Stephanie is a clinical psychologist in private practice in New York City, who specializes in treating mood disorders with cognitive behavioral therapy. She lives with her husband, Stephen and their four children, Julie (12), Daniel (8), Alexandra (7) and Eliana (7)."

● Julien Fronsacq "is a curator, teacher, and art critic based in Paris. He is a graduate of the Ecole du Louvre and the University of Paris/La Sorbonne. He was an assistant to Professor Michel Frizot at the Ecole du Louvre before becoming a teacher at the University of Art and Design Lausanne (ECAL, 2002). Since 2010, he has been involved in ECAL's visual arts Master's degree program. In parallel to his curatorial practice, Fronsacq has worked in institutions including La Galerie, Noisy-le-Sec and Gallery Jean Broly. He was director of Forde, Geneva and co-director of the artist-run space Glassbox, Paris. Since 2007, he is curator at the Palais de Tokyo, Paris..... ● Dr. Larisa (Jovanovic) Taylor “has been with Harbour Medical Group since August of 2005. She did her training at Stanford School of Medicine and her internship at University of Southern California- Los Angeles County Medical Center. She went to medical school in New York at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine [MD in 2001]. Going into medical school she was sure she was not going to be an OB-GYN after seeing her father working long hours and doing many middle of the night deliveries. However she fell in love with the field as soon as she started her rotation and has never regretted the decision to go into the same field as her father and brother. Having two children, she understands the joys and tribulations of being a mother. She speaks Spanish.” (<http://www.harbormedicalgroupinc.com/meet.php?SectionID=40>)

● Dr. Cédric Dassas « est urgentiste au Samu-Smur de Rouen, et chargé de mission d’urgences pour Europ Assistance et Médecins sans frontières. [Il est] l'auteur de Saignant ou à point ? - “BROOKLYN, N.Y., Jan. 20, 2012 /PRNewswire-USNewswire/ -- A select few physicians were honored with the prestigious 2011 Patients' Choice Award, and this year they include Dr. Cascya Charlot. Only doctors who have received top scores by their patients and pass other quality measures are awarded [this award].In fact, of the nation's 720,000 active physicians, just 5 percent were accorded this honor in 2011. Every month, millions of patients across the U.S. access websites like Vitals (<http://www.vitals.com>) to share feedback about their experiences with their doctors. Patients rate various components of the care they receive.....Patients' Choice ranks the top reviewed physicians and looks at other quality measures to compile its yearly list.

Dr. Cascya Charlot commented on the recognition: "This is quite an honor for me. I am very pleased to have been selected and grateful to my patients who went out of their way to rate me and give me positive reviews."

Dr. Cascya Charlot is board certified in Allergy and Immunology and Internal Medicine. She received her medical degree from Harvard Medical School [in 2000] and went on to complete a residency in Internal Medicine at NYU Downtown Hospital and a fellowship in Allergy at SUNY Downstate Medical Center. Dr. Charlot is well respected in her field and is a vocal advocate of asthma awareness in the community. She is the medical director of the Allergy and Asthma Care of Brooklyn which has 2 offices in Brooklyn (Park Slope and Williamsburg)."

● Valérie MacCarthy "is a professional Opera Singer working in some of the great houses around the United States and Europe. She was born in the Melting Pot that is New York City to a French mother and American father and started traveling before she can even remember.

These travels awakened a passion for the variety of cultures, languages and art found across the planet and her work as a singer gave her a chance to see even more of the world. All the while, a burning love for jewelry design had always existed, a little hobby her grandmother had ignited by giving her a box of beads and string as a child. Through the years, she collected various stones, beads and ideas that she would subsequently turn into marvelous creations. Her fellow opera singers were the first to take notice and immediately bought whatever she was wearing right off of her. Everyone began to take notice when even a publishing company

TOP: Arnaud Desbiez ('93);
BOTTOM: Olivier Plusquellec ('93)

asked if she might write a book about her work (Beading with Gemstones). Three years ago, Valérie moved to Paris on a bit of a whim and launched a company called Simone Gabor. The French press (Vogue), loved it, and the American press (Women's Wear Daily) took notice too. It was therefore obvious that Valérie needed to let everyone know that the opera singer and jewelry designer were one and the same. It is for this reason that in March 2010 she launched her new brand, Valérie MacCarthy. But the story doesn't end there! All the while, Valérie has not only been singing opera, but has added Pop to her repertoire." (<http://www.valeriemaccarthy.com/>)

- Dr. Marie Caroline Piché "AHMC Palliative Care Program Director and Hospice of the North Country Medical Director, was a guest speaker for the Alice Hyde Nursing Home Family Council. She spoke to family and friends of the residents about the MOLST (Medical Orders for Life Sustaining Treatment) program which emphasized the importance of improving and maintaining effective communication about end of life care that is carried throughout all health care settings. 'Advance Care Planning is a good way to bring peace of mind to patients, residents, and their families,' said Dr. Marie Caroline Piche. 'It is very important to make decisions about care while we are still able to speak for ourselves and not to wait for a crisis to happen—this makes it easier for us and our loved ones.' - " Né sur le territoire français, c'est aux States que Franck Desbhy alias Frades grandit et prend ses marques dans la production d'instrus. Il y passera 26 ans avant de venir s'installer en France, il y a 2 ans, pour développer son activité. « Tombé » dans le Hip Hop à l'époque de Run DMC, Jam Master Jay entre autres, il a vécu l'épopée du mouvement depuis la base et de surcroît, sur place. Autant dire que ses influences sont multiples et teintées de purisme américain. Multiples car, d'origine Ivoirienne, il a su s'inspirer des rythmes afro de ses racines, et des diverses ambiances et mélodies européennes, lors de ses nombreux voyages. Ce qui fait que sa musique est unique et ne ressemble qu'à lui. Un autre élément caractéristique de sa « patte » est aussi reconnaissable : la présence d'une grosse caisse lourde et saturée mêlée à des sons ou chants mélodieux. En même temps, rien là d'étonnant si on remonte aux sources de ses influences, on y trouve tant du Motown, Michael Jackson, que du Dre ou du Timbaland, entre autres. Aujourd'hui référencé sur Acid Planet (www.acidplanet.com) depuis 2005 où il est même 1er au classement Top Artistes Hip Hop ; Frades vend des prods un peu partout à travers le monde ; en Chine, au Chili, au Moyen Orient...et n'a pas fini d'enrichir son carnet d'adresses et d'acheteurs via ce site..Ainsi, de nombreux artistes et producteurs lui commandent des beats, instaurant ainsi une marque de qualité et de reconnaissance dans le milieu. En passe de monter un label associatif incluant la production et l'évènementiel ; il a su s'entourer d'une équipe de soldats (zouk, hip hop, dancehall...) afin de développer les activités de cette structure dans un esprit convivial voire communautaire mettant à l'honneur la diversité culturelle et artistique. L'autre sensible différence de ce label, et pas la moindre, réside dans le fait que Frades développe sa musique dans le souci de satisfaire pleinement le client. Ainsi, affiner, remodeler, coller à la personnalité artistique tout en gardant son authenticité est son cheval de bataille. De nombreux projets découleront de cette structure, on peut déjà annoncer une compile en cours de réalisation ; affaire à suivre... " (profile.myspace.com)

He started his career at Paradigm Talent Agency, moving to talent management agency William Morris and then to Wilhelmina Artist Management and the Marilyn Agency. Since the start of 2006, he has worked as an independent consultant for communications agencies....Hibon said: "Although this concept represents a new offering within agencies, the creation of Celebrities Consulting within our group is extremely logical. By centralising this process we can offer our clients and networks a service that is both simplified and more sympathetic to the sector."

The new division will collaborate internally within Havas Media, particularly Havas Sports and Havas Entertainment, as well as service the needs of all of the group's agencies including the Euro RSCG global network. It will also operate independently within the market as a brand...."

2003. I have been working for IBM France in the Legal Department for almost two years, and I am in charge of the Software Group within IBM for France, Belgium and Luxemburg. It would be really nice to hear from my 93' classmates!"

- La famille Van Daele nous écrit: «Alexandre Mangin et Isabel Van Daele ont le plaisir de vous annoncer la naissance d'Hadrien le 13/2/03 ; 2.950 et 51 cm. Le bébé se porte bien et comble ses parents qu'il ne laisse dormir que très peu depuis son arrivée. Wouter Van Daele est admis à Columbia et Harvard et se rendra à Columbia l'an prochain. Alexia la Benjamine est à Columbia où elle fait un Masters en American Litterature. Nos parents sont ambassadeurs à DC. Je suis toujours à la recherche de Maxime (TB '93) et Alix (TB '92) Thibaut et mes autres copins dont j'ai perdu la trace. Bonne continuation à tous.»

- Charles Dupin de Saint Cyr partage ses dernieres nouvelles: "Marié depuis 2002. Petite fille (Amelha) née en avril 2003."

- Estrid Teynier '93 was married in September 2003, in Paris.

- Estrid Teynier nous écrit : « Au niveau professionnel, je fais actuellement partie de la Direction Juridique France/Belgique d'IBM France basée à la Défense (92), et m'occupe plus spécialement des aspects juridiques relatifs au software. Au niveau personnel, je suis toujours célibataire mais vis avec mon ami à Paris. »

- Olivier Bardet writes : " Some news about the people of Promotion '93 : Veronica Boboc still lives in Paris and works for Cartier ; Etienne Bernard works for the Natexis Bank. Federica Albertini and I both live in London now (not together, though). I will move in with my Italian girlfriend in September. I've been working in London for two years now and am a trader for TotalFinaElf. I would like to get back in touch with Scott Weber (congratulations on your baby!) and Sophie Bartsich, Karl Massou, Pierre-Patrick Chanoine. For those who knew my brother Stephane '87, he is a father of a little girl Lucy since yesterday in Aix-en-Provence."

- Jean-Louis Richiardone writes: "I moved back to New York City in 1999, and have since been working for a company called LinkShare. Things have been going pretty well. I will most likely stay out here another year or so before moving on. (I have always secretly wanted to work for the UN in Geneva, Switzerland. Who knows, perhaps I will bump into Scott '93 and Cathy Weber who now work and live there. It would be great to see the both of them again, and if you're reading this, congratulations on the birth of your new child!) In the mean time, I sincerely hope to hear from my former classmates here in NYC and from around the world. Best regards to everyone."

● Thibaut de Barros Conti, according to his brother Amaury '88, is currently applying to graduate school and looks forward to starting next Fall.

-----From July/August 2001 AALFNY Newsletter-----

● Thibaut de Barros Conti recently moved back to France and works as a regional sales manager for an American chemical company in Paris. He sends us news about his fellow classmate Yannis Jemiai, who is pursuing a PhD in Biostatistics at Harvard University.

● Charles Dupin de Saint Cyr is working in the New Economy in the Silicone Valley.

● Jeroen Coppens is back in the States for a residency in Neurosurgery after obtaining his MD in Belgium.

● Laurie Fischer is currently living in New York City and is in the process of completing her Masters Degree in Industrial Design at Pratt Institute.

● Elena Villegas writes: «Spent the last 8 years in Los Angeles, loved it. Decided to move to Mexico City last year, and will probably stay here one more year before I go somewhere else. Can't seem to settle down. Anyone who remembers Class of '93 drop me a line. It would be cool to hear from you.»

● Aleksandra Vikati writes: «I am living in San Francisco with my partner, Edwin, whom I met at Stanford. I co-founded FileFish Inc. in 1999 and recently raised $4.6 million in venture capital funding from Softbank Venture Capital and Innovacom, FranceTelecom's investment arm. When I am not busy building the company (which is rare), I try to take advantage of the beautiful northern California outdoors.»

● Scott Weber writes: «Cathy Boule '93 and I got married in April 1999, and we have been living in France, right outside of Geneva, Switzerland, since 1997. We moved here after graduating from college to take up jobs at the United Nations. Our big news is that we are expecting our first child any day now! Keep up the good work with the site. Would enjoy hearing from former classmates.»
