

2002 Class Notes Archives

----- From July 2017 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Alain Haspil (LSY: Terminale in 2002) is a Physical Education Teacher at EINY (Ecole Internationale de New York.) "A graduate of the Lycée Français de New York, [he] continued his undergraduate studies at Fordham University, followed by graduate studies at Baruch College. Fully bilingual in French and English, Alain has been teaching P.E. and coaching at several private schools since 2004 and has been with EINY since the 2014-2015 school year. While Alain coaches several Middle School sports such as soccer and baseball, he is also a specialized basketball instructor working with multiple basketball clinics around New York. Alain has an immense passion for working with children, teaching them the benefits of athletics, sportsmanship and becoming a positive team player." (<https://einy.org/about/team/>)

TOP: Alain Haspil ('02);
BOTTOM: Clarisse Lehmann ('02)

● Martina Fourcade (LSY: Terminale in 2002) recently married Jonathan McIntosh ('99)

● Clarisse Lehmann (LSY: 5eme in 1997) is the founder/creator of Rambling Muse where the "travel knowledge she had accumulated living in Geneva, New York, Tokyo and finally London.....[is shared through] her stories, insights and musings to her friends and the larger global web community [and where she compiles] all the little bits and parts to form a cornucopia of travel information." (Click HERE to access her website)

● Thibault Saurat (LSY: 1ere in 2001) "I recently finished my degree in Intellectual Property law, CEIPI (Centre d'études internationales de la propriété intellectuelle, University of Strasbourg), with elective courses in patents and trademarks and am now starting to practice my skills as a patent engineer for Valeo, one of the world's leading automotive suppliers fully focused on the design, production and sale of components, integrated systems and modules for the automobile industry, in the Thermal Systems Business Group." (linkedin.com/in/thibault-saurat-05b7402a)

TOP: Thibault Saurat ('02);
BOTTOM: Kerstyn Dioulo ('02)

● Kerstyn Dioulo (LSY: 10eme in 1992) is the Founder and CEO of Glow Connection (a full-service integrated talent and strategic brand management agency based in New York City). "Kerstyn has lead client publicity campaigns using her innovative Marketing and Public Relations skills. Since then she has represented singer/actor Rotimi best known for his skein on Starz's critically acclaimed show, Boss and currently stars in POWER. She also has branded celebrity DJs, DJ Suss One, DJ L and DJ Juss, who was a featured DJ on ABC's Good Morning America; Landon Dais a 2009, city council candidate in NYC; Chef J. Maxwell personal Chef to Yankees pitcher, CC Sabathia and X93 Fitness just to name few." (<http://glowconnection.com/>)

● Marine Duroselle (LSY: 1ere in 2001 "is a French freelance graphic designer who lives and works in East London. She draws on inspiration from her international upbringing in Lima, Paris and New York City to produce colorful and insightful work in response to a variety of briefs and clients. Since graduating from the Royal College of Art in 2011, Marine has worked as an independent graphic designer on numerous exhibition designs, branding projects and publications in London and throughout Europe. Clients include: V&A Museum, Design Museum London, Imperial War Museum, Jewish Museum, British Council, RCA Transport for London, Urban Outfitters, RIBA, Royal Festival Hall." (<http://www.marineduroselle.com/>)

TOP: Jonathan Torn ('02);
BOTTOM: Francis Debbane ('02) and fiancée Estefania

● Olivier Donadiou (LSY: 1ere in 2001 "est un photographe spécialisé dans la photographie de voyage et le reportage.....Diplômé d'un Bachelor of Photography (avec félicitations du jury) de l'école Icart-Photo de Paris, [il] a débuté sa carrière en assistant le photographe Jean-Luc Manaud sur le livre Méditerranée aux éditions de la Martinière. De par le monde (35 pays à son actif à ce jour), il aime aller vers les gens, découvrir leur culture et leur mode de vie. L'un des périple phares d'Olivier Donadiou est celui qui l'a mené à parcourir les pays méditerranéens. De ce trek, il a rapporté des images, un carnet de voyage éclectique, réaliste et original. Dans son objectif, la vie. La vie des gens, la vie des peuples." (<http://www.posepartage.fr/blog/syrie-olivier-donadiou.html>)

● Stephanie Bilet (LSY: 2nde in 2000 is Business Development Manager at REVL LTD in London. She is also the Chair of the UK Junior Ocean Council (an international advocacy organisation focused solely on ocean conservation.): "Stephanie's love for the oceans grew from spending her formative years crossing them. As a citizen of the world, born in Paris and raised between London and New York, the collective need to conserve our greatest shared asset became deep rooted in her. Stephanie has made a career of following one great passion- seduced by the sound of Bob Dylan and Ben Harper, she entered the music industry. Working for global leading talent agency CAA, she has pitched the profiles and coordinated the campaigns of many of music's biggest names. And now, as the Junior Chair for the UK, she brings both this skill and enthusiasm to Oceana, working to instil their cause into the hearts of the next generation of influence-makers. From organising the prestigious launch event, to hosting talks with some of the world's most important marine conservationists, she has successfully begun to diversify the funder base, increase the media exposure, and create a growing trend for Oceana's vital message." (<http://joclondon.org/chairs-committees>)

TOP: Victor Demarchelier ('02) and spouse Heloise; BOTTOM: Stephanie Bilet ('02)

● Jonathan Torn (LSY: Terminale in 2002 is Director of US Business Development and co-founder of Higher Ground Produce in Las Vegas (a firm that provides a "long term, reliable & sustainable solution to the lack of local produce in Las Vegas through the use of cutting edge technologies.") He has an "MA in International Business & Environmental Studies from Tufts University. Seven years of project management, triple bottom line business plan development & implementation for the Teatulia, Biolite, the World Bank and the UN." (<https://www.hgproduce.com/team>))

● Victor Demarchelier (LSY: Terminale in 2002) "a fashion photographer like his father Patrick, married French model Heloise Guerin Sunday, July 3 [2016] at an outdoor ceremony at the Château de Brégançon, in the South of France. After exchanging their vows overlooking the garden, the couple joined their guests for a candlelight dinner under the trees." (<http://en.vogue.fr/wedding/>)

● Aline Sara (LSY: Terminale in 2002 is a Founder and CEO of NaTakallam --a social venture that connects Syrian refugees with Arabic learners worldwide for language practice over Skype. The platform caters to students in need of affordable and flexible Arabic practice and direct access to native speakers on the one hand, while providing displaced Syrians with a source of income, marketable skills, and enriching work opportunity on the other – in an effort to combat the workforce restrictions and language barriers many refugees face in their host country.

"J'ai grandi dans un environnement multiculturel, à la fois Français (j'ai fait mes études primaires et secondaires au Lycée Français de New York), Moyen-oriental (je suis d'origine libanaise) et Américain (je suis née et je vis aux États-Unis). Par ailleurs j'ai toujours été très sensible aux questions humanitaires. NaTakallam est ma plus grande fierté parce que ce projet s'appuie sur les langues et les cultures pour promouvoir l'entente et la tolérance entre les peuples tout en rendant justice et dignité (à travers un salaire) à ceux qui sont frappés par un conflit, le conflit syrien en l'occurrence. NaTakallam ("Nous parlons" en Arabe) met en relation, via Internet, des Syriens réfugiés au Liban principalement mais aussi en France, en Arménie, au Brésil, au Canada, en Égypte, en Italie, en Irak, en Turquie et en Allemagne avec des personnes, partout dans le monde, qui veulent apprendre la langue Arabe."

(<http://www.lepetitjournal.com/trophees-candidats/item/1050-Aline-Sara>)

● Francis Debbane (LSY: Terminale in 2002) is the owner of Fran6music: He "realized early on in his career that diversifying his skill set was key in order to successfully pursue his passion. Armed with a B.S in Business from Drexel University and an Audio Engineering degree from I.A.R, Francis made the pilgrimage from NYC to L.A.

While initially focusing on original music composition and production, Francis then landed an in-house position in the music department at Disneytoon Studios supervising and producing the music for the animated feature films. Being able to combine his business and creative/technical skills, he was involved in all aspects of creating and producing orchestral scores, original songs, and licensing commercial recordings. From budgeting, to creative interfacing with hired composers and songwriters, to music editing, to overseeing orchestra (up to 90 players) recording sessions, Francis spent four years using both left and right brain to get the job done. Now on his own, Francis continues to work on projects for Disney as well as other smaller to mid sized clients." (<https://www.fran6music.com>)

TOP: Eve de la Mothe Karoubi ('02); BOTTOM: Julia Alexandra Livi ('02)

TOP: Marine Duroselle ('02); MIDDLE: Elektra Carras-Terzian ('02); BOTTOM: Aline Sara ('02)

NOTE: Francis is engaged and is planning a wedding with his fiancée Estefania in September, 2017,

TOP: Alain Haspil ('02);
BOTTOM: Rasha Jerandi ('02)

Sarah Poyet ('02)

● Caroline Magasweran, D.V.M. (LSY: Terminale in 2002) is a veterinarian at West Chelsea Vet in NYC: "A seasoned globetrotter, [she] has lived in numerous countries around the world including France, China and the Caribbean. She graduated from SUNY Binghamton before studying veterinary medicine at Ross University School of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Magasweran then spent her clinical year at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater and completed a prestigious, year-long internship at New York's Blue Pearl, a New York City, specialty and emergency veterinary hospital, before joining the West Chelsea team in October of 2011. Dr. Magasweran is fluent in French which has proved especially helpful with our diverse, New York City clientele. Today, she calls Manhattan home and lives with her rescued, island dog, Optimus Prime, and her sassy, rescue kitty, Iron Hide." (<http://www.westchelseavet.com/our-vets.html>)

● Elektra Carras-Terzian (LSY: Terminale in 2002) is the Director of M&E and Economic Strengthening at the CARIS Foundation (a Non-Profit Private Foundation established in Irving, Texas in 2002 to aid and empower impoverished people): "Elektra was born and raised in New York City to French-Greek parents. After studying Pre-medical sciences at Johns Hopkins University, she landed a position at Columbia University working for the HIV Vaccine Trials Network. She then decided to pursue an MPH in Epidemiology at the Mailman School. Elektra joined the Caris Foundation in 2012 based in Cap Haitien [Haiti] and has since become the manager for the North operations and a specialist in Monitoring and Evaluation. Her position has enabled her to manage a team of health professionals, data systems, and master Creole. She is also managing a Haitian traditional music band, Mizikannou." (<http://www.carisfoundation.org/our-team-1-1-2/>)

----- From December 2015 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Eve de la Mothe Karoubi (LSY: Terminale in 2002) "is a Manager for the SDSN [Sustainable Development Solutions Network]. . Eve joined the SDSN in November 2012 and leads the work on indicators and monitoring for the Sustainable Development Goals, as well as the development and management of regional and national networks in sub-Saharan Africa. Previously she worked for the OECD on various projects: capacity building in developing and emerging economies, strengthening governance in post-conflict and fragile states, and food security and sustainable development in the Sahel and West Africa. In 2007/08, Eve was an Insight Fellow, a fellowship program to pursue effective conflict management internationally, during which she worked in Liberia, Thailand, Lebanon, and at the International Criminal Court in The Hague. Eve has also held positions with Mercy Corps' Conflict Management Group in New York and the UN International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda in Tanzania. She holds a dual Masters Degree in International Affairs from the Columbia University

TOP: Pedro Sardinha Pinto
(LSY: 5eme in 1997) ;
BOTTOM: Ségolène Leclercq
(LSY: 1ere in 2001)

Marine Duroselle ('02)

TOP: Aline Sara ('02);
BOTTOM: Isis Valliergues
Barnum ('02)

School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) and from Sciences Po Paris, and a B.A. with honors from Smith College." (<http://unsdsn.org/about-us/people/eve-de-la-mothe-karoubi/>)

● Julia Alexandra Livi (LSY: 4eme in 1998) is a French teacher at Fluent City and a Social Studies teacher with the NYC Dept. of Education. She "is the author and the illustrator of Voltaire se Promène and Voltaire and Tonton Joe, two bilingual picture books for children, both in French and in English, about Voltaire, a 'Franco-American Hipster dog'." (<http://frenchculture.org/books/events/art-literary-translation-how-meaning-translates-across-languages>)

● Justin Dreyfuss (LSY: 7eme/CM2 in 1985) "previously the Director of Digital Strategy at Universal Music Group's Interscope Records, has joined Red Bull Records as their new Digital Marketing Director." (<https://socialmedia.org/>)

● Sarah Poyet (LSY: Terminale in 2002) is the founder and President of The Glass Files -- "The place for History on the Internet". (Click HERE to access her website)

----- From December 2014 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Victor Demarchelier "was born and raised in New York. Having grown up in the fashion industry, he had an appreciation very early on for photography and fashion. Victor studied economics and fine art at Vassar College with a particular focus on printmaking. Shortly after graduating from college he began working with Patrick Demarchelier. Victor's work has appeared in Vogue, Vogue Paris, Vogue China, Vogue Japan, Vogue Spain, Vogue Germany, Vogue Russia, Teen Vogue, Bazaar, Bazaar Australia, Interview, V, 25Mag, and Wonderland." (<http://victordemarchelier.net/biography>)

● Sibile Marcellus "is a broadcast journalist. Sibile worked at the U.S. Embassy in Paris as a junior Foreign Service officer. She began her journalism career as an intern at ABC's World News Tonight with Peter Jennings and quickly became one of ABC News' youngest anchors. At age 23, she delivered her first live news brief on ABC News Now, providing on-air coverage of breaking domestic and international news stories....As a production associate and translator for ABC News Nightline, Sibile led ABC to the Emmy Award for Outstanding Investigative Journalism "How to Buy a Child in Ten Hours."

At Yale University, Sibile majored in French, Italian, and German. She competed for Yale's Varsity Track Team and produced the very first Yale figure skating show "Ivy on Ice.".....At 15, she became a Miss NY Teen USA pageant finalist. From 14 to 18, she competed in Olympic figure skating trials and is a two-time medalist at the Empire State Games. In high school, she was a champion at the Horace Mann Model United Nations competition three times. She has done piano and theater performances at Carnegie Hall, the Merkin Concert Hall, and Florence Gould Hall. She won six consecutive "Prix d'Excellence" awards of the Banque Nationale de Paris at the Lycée Français.....Sibile, who was born and raised in NYC, knows France, Italy, Germany, Haiti, and has been around several states in the U.S.”

Rémy Franzoni ('02) and his book

<http://www.dwight.edu/podium/default.aspx?t=204&nid=833632&bl=back&rc=0>

TOP: Martin Runel ('02);
BOTTOM: Remy Karim
Franzoni ('02)

● Adel Oberto is an Italian director and editor, currently at the National Film & Television School in London. "I was born and raised as a hard working and creative person by my parents, a painting restorer and a visual artist who has participated to the Biennale exhibition in Venice. I lived in New York City, Genoa and Pisa until I eventually moved to London, where I graduated at the NFTS (National Film and Television School) in 2012. While studying, I edited short films, music videos, promos and documentaries. I am a free-lance collaborator, as Editor and Assistant Editor, to several features and TV-productions in the United Kingdom and Italy. I have also been collaborating for international cultural institutions like the Venice Film Festival, the University of Sorbonne in Paris, the Scuola Normale Superiore in Pisa and the Bjem - Biennial of Young Artists from Europe and the Mediterranean. The films I worked on have been screened and awarded by film festivals all over the world.....This intense and successful practice, which allows me to follow and be responsible of the whole post-production process, helps me to refine myself as a storyteller, creating high-class films and stories out of very low budgets. This side of my career experience is fortunately continuing during my staying in the UK. I look forward to working in the UK, Italy and Europe as as Editor and Assistant Editor, cutting short and feature films, commercials and documentaries." (<http://www.filmandtvpro.com/uk/view.php?uid=437560>)

● Nazim Djoudi is a body system engineer at Ford Motor Company.

● Raphael Vergnaud is a marketing & communications project officer at SportAccord.

● Chiara Molinari Giorgi is an operations manager (conferences) at UBM Canon.

● Adela Khadir is a commodities derivatives broker at SCS Commodities Corp.

● Kerstyn Dioulo is a publicist at Glow Connection.

----- From December 2012 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Marine Duroselle told us that she "graduated from l'École Nationale Supérieur des Arts Décoratifs (Paris) Class of 2009. [She] most recently graduated from the Royal College of Arts (London) Class of 2011. [She is] now living in London, UK, doing artistic direction and freelance graphic design."

● Margaux Larroche is an expert in the real estate sector.....Originally from France, Margaux has lived and studied internationally. She's lived in Cambridge in the UK, Sao Paulo in Brazil, Paris in France and New York, where she has resided for the past 15 years. Margaux is fluent in French, Spanish, Brazilian Portuguese and English. She loves interacting and working with people of every background. As she puts it herself, "Being a third-culture kid gave me great socio-cultural adaptability which in turn helps me understand people's personalities and tastes in real estate."

TOP: Christopher Pirklbauer ('02);
BOTTOM: Dimitra
Theodoropoulos ('02)

While she's always lived on the Upper West Side, Margaux studied in Morningside Heights at Columbia University, where she received a Bachelor degree in Economics and Mathematics, and on the Upper East Side at the Lycée Français de New York. Margaux also passed her French scientific baccalaureat in Paris, France. She comes from an entrepreneurial family who inspired her own entrepreneurial spirit Prior to residential real estate, Margaux co-founded and managed a short-term vacation rental company in New York City, and worked as an international business developer. In her free time, Margaux enjoys meeting new people and traveling, especially to Europe and South America. She's also involved in various communities including Lycée Français de New York (LFNY) Alumni, Columbia University Alumni, Columbia Alumni Arts League, Accueil New York, and of course, the Real Estate Board of New York."

<http://www.elliman.com/real-estate-agent/margaux-larroche/6617>

TOP: Teddy Wyss ('02);
BOTTOM: Frederic Brault ('02)

- Rémy Franzoni is a course lecturer at HEC Montreal and a business intelligence professional.

- Rasha Jerandi est traductrice et rédactrice bilingue (Français/Anglais) à Paris.

- Dimitra Theodoropulos is a corporate strategic analyst at Al Ghurair Investment, in the United Arab Emirates.

- Chris Pirklbauer is an account executive at Jumtap in NYC.

- Nicolas Duminil wrote: "I started a company which is the 1st international network for referrals and business development. It is a professional platform where international companies and intermediaries connect. I also do freelance Social Media Strategy and Community Management. I'm based in NYC, but I'm used to working remotely." (<https://www.linkedin.com/in/nicolasduminil>)

----- From December 2011 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Aline Sara informed us that she is "a full time staff reporter at a Beirut based online publication, NOW Lebanon.com, [and that she] also freelances for a few other publications in the region." She shared a fascinating article of hers entitled The state-sponsored gangs of the Arab Spring which begins: "They've been around for a while, but never have they been put to such twisted, terrifying and effective use. From Egypt's baltageya to Syria's shabiha, from Yemen's baltija to the Libyan mourtazakad, state-sponsored mercenaries have been essential in squelching dissent during the popular uprisings spreading across the Middle East...."

TOP: Armelle Wiart ('02);
MIDDLE: Hermione Avocetien ('02);
BOTTOM: Raphaëlle Coumes ('02)

TOP & MIDDLE: Olivier Donadieu ('02) and one his photos selected for the Paris Match contest; BOTTOM: Elektra Carras ('02)

----- From November 2010 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Nelly Parisot wrote: "I am finishing up my fourth year of medical school at Columbia University and am currently applying for residency in Emergency Medicine."
- Dr. Caroline Magasweran (DVM) "joined the team at NYC Veterinary Specialists in 2010. Education: Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, Ross University School of Veterinary Medicine (2009) & Bachelor of Science, Binghamton University (2006). Off Duty: Dr. Magasweran spends off-duty hours with her boyfriend and their family: Optimus Prime, an energetic Kittitian rescue dog; Rambo, a hingeback tortoise; and Luna, an adorable lab-chow-mix. You might also find Dr. Magasweran reading, camping or traveling whenever and wherever possible." (newyork.bluepearlvet.com)
- "Eve de la Mothe Karoubi graduated cum laude from Smith College in 2006 with a B.A. in Government and African Studies, focusing on international relations and conflict resolution. As a 2007 Insight Fellow, Eve focused on empowering youth in conflict areas by conducting training workshops and by working to help improve the efficiency of grassroots youth organizations. Currently Eve is pursuing a double Masters in International Relations through the prestigious Dual Degree program offered by Columbia University's School for International and Public Affairs (SIPA) and Sciences Po Paris." (http://www.insightcollaborative.org/ic_2009/fellowship_description_template.php?journal_year=2007&j_id=5)

Videos of LFNy alumni on the internet:

- Nelly Parisot as a volunteer in Thailand with Cross-Cultural Solutions

----- From December 2009 AALFNY Newsletter -----

(no class notes, only photos)

----- From January 2009 AALFNY Newsletter -----

- Your AALFNY 2002 class representative is Ana Ortiz. She can help you organize reunions and other events. (Her email address is available upon request)
- Caroline Magasweran wrote: "I am in my fourth and last year at Oklahoma State University School of Veterinary Medicine. I graduate June 5th, 2008 and will most likely practice in a small animal clinic in Manhattan, performing general medicine or specializing in ophthalmology."

TOP: Margaux Larroche ('02);
BOTTOM: Guillaume Galy ('02)

----- From July 2008 AALFNY Newsletter -----

TOP to BOTTOM: Guillaume Galy ('02); Jessica Shearer ('02); Julia Martellozo ('02)

● Olivier Donadieu nous a écrit qu'il a "participé au concours photo reportage de Paris Match et [que son] reportage au Népal fait partie des 23 sélectionnés."

● Eve de la Mothe Karoubi shared this with us: "I am currently wrapping up the Insight Fellowship, a yearlong Fellowship program that sponsors exceptional young professionals to study and promote effective conflict management internationally (www.insightcollaborative.org). After receiving training in Boston last summer, I went to work as a consultant to the Prosecutor at the International Criminal Court in The Hague. After 3 months in the Netherlands, I went to Lebanon where I was hosted by my LFNY classmate Aline Sara ('02) and developed and led a workshop on "Youth and Reconciliation" at the American University in Beirut. In January, I moved on to Thailand to begin my second international placement. During my three months there, I focused on the role of young activists in the Burmese pro-democracy movement and worked with several organizations in Northern Thailand, from where most Burmese organizations operate in political exile. In April, I began my third and final international placement in Liberia. I am working with Youth Action International (YAI), an NGO that works to support and empower conflict-affected youth in Africa, and am overseeing the development of new programs in Liberia and Sierra Leone. Over the course of the year, I have kept a personal blog documenting my experiences at www.allaboutevedlmk.blogspot.com. On another note, I'm thrilled announce that I was recently accepted to my top choice Masters program: the Sciences Po/ SIPA dual degree program in international affairs. I will spend my first year at Sciences Po in Paris and my second year studying at the School of International & Public Affairs at Columbia University in New York."

● Our AALFNY Class of 2002 representative, Ana Ortiz, was kind enough to write to her classmates and to send us these updates, below. Merci Ana!!

● Aline Sara has spent the past year in Beirut, Lebanon studying Arabic and interning at Human Rights Watch. She is glad to have spent time with her family and to have experienced such a difficult environment firsthand. After a summer of backpacking through Greece, Turkey and Syria, she will return to New York to begin her law school applications.

● Anoush Varjabedian is beginning her second year as a graduate student at Harvard University, majoring in History and Middle Eastern studies. Her primary field of interest is Ottoman history and she is currently researching Protestant missionary education in 19th century Anatolia.

● Nelly Parisot has just completed her first year at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. Her summer activities will include participating in a volunteer medical program in Vietnam and then traveling around southeast asia.

TOP: Cyril Lavaire ('02);
MIDDLE: Eve de la Mothe Karoubi ('02);
BOTTOM: Thierno Achy ('02)

Sibile Morency ('02) & Antonio Gurrea-Nozaleda ('02)

● Sixteen LFNY alums Chanez Baali ('02), Elektra Carras ('02), Raphaelle Coumes ('02) , Aliocha Hansen-Love ('05), Igor Hansen-Love ('01), Stewart Laufer ('00), Olivier Lauzon ('95), David Macleod ('01), Jonathan McIntosh ('99), Miguel Patriota ('99), Thomas Patriota ('01), Sarah Poyet ('02), Jessica Shearer ('02), Oliver Shearer ('99), Philip M Shearer ('95), and Gabrielle Archer ('03) have been working with Manyc Records since it was founded in 2003. Manyc Records (manycrecords.com) is a record company based out of the South Bronx, NY. Its roster includes artists Bandamous, Milt Opus, Multiple Mono, Strip Darling and Tramponaline, in addition to djs and electronic music producers. The company and its artists seek to make actual music. In collaboration with sputnyc (sputnyc.com), Manyc Records has artists playing parties in diversified venues, going all city by throwing monthly sputnyc Carnival parties. Listen out for long-awaited studio recordings this winter.

----- From December 2007 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Ana Ortiz is the new Alumni Class Representative for the class of 2002.

● Pauline Austry nous écrit: "Et bien, en ce qui me concerne, mon cursus après le LFNY a été un peu mouvementé. J'ai d'abord fait ma 2nd et une partie de ma 1ère au lycée Français de Belgique, à Bruxelles, puis la fin de ma 1ère et ma terminale à Paris, au lycée Jean-Baptiste Say. J'ai ensuite poursuivi mes études en faisant 2 ans d'école préparatoire aux concours d'école de commerce au lycée Janson de Sailly à Paris. J'ai réussi à intégrer Euromed-Marseille (nouveau nom de l'ESC Marseille) où je suis actuellement en dernière année, après avoir fait une année de césure l'an dernier pendant laquelle j'ai effectué 2 stages, un de 7 mois à Londres chez Frenger International, société privée spécialisée dans les fusions acquisitions entre la France et les UK, et mon second chez BNPP AM (BNP Paribas Asset Management, la branche de BNPP qui s'occupe de la gestion d'actif). Je compte finir ma scolarité en partant 6 mois en université partenaire à Florence de février à juillet. En espérant que tout va bien au LFNY !"

----- From June 2007 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Alyosha Smolarski wrote: "I graduated from McGill University in 2006 in Physiology and took a year off to work in San Diego, CA at a pharmaceutical company. I am now back in Montreal preparing admission to medical school for the fall of 2008. I am interested in pursuing a career in the health sciences which will enable me to combine allopathic and more alternative kinds of practices."

----- From December 2006 AALFNY Newsletter -----

● Francis Debbane's online 'E-Portfolio' states: "I am currently a fourth year student at Drexel University. I am pursuing a bachelor's degree in Business Administration with a concentration in Marketing. I am enrolled in the 5-year Co-Op program which has given me the opportunity to work two full-time six-month internships over the last four years. I believe I have received the best of both worlds by doing this program because I will graduate from Drexel with 18 months worth of work experience. The skills I have acquired by working full-time have given a competitive edge over my peers because I am accustomed to the professional work environment. I have recently decided to pursue a music minor here at Drexel University. Music is one of my deepest passions and I plan to combine my musical skills with the business knowledge I have acquired."

TOP: Caroline Magasweran ('02); MIDDLE: Mathias Muller ('02); BOTTOM: Rasha Jerandi ('02)

Top: Jonathan Teper ('02)
Bottom: Cyril Lavaire ('02)

Antoine Castelas ('02)

● Anoush Varjabedian is a U.S. Foreign Language Teaching Assistant at an Austrian secondary school (in Vienna), in a program coordinated by the Fulbright Commission for the Austrian Ministry of Education, Science and Culture.

● Cyril Lavaire nous écrit: "Bonjour à tous, un peu de français ne fera pas de mal sur cette page! :-). Après le LFNY en 2000, j'ai fini mon lycée au Lycée Français de Montréal (Collège Marie de France). Puis après l'obtention de mon bac en 2002, j'ai fait une première année à l'École Polytechnique de Montréal (Canada) en Ingénierie Mécanique. En 2003 j'ai orienté mes études vers le commerce et je me trouve actuellement en 4ème année de BBA of Honours à l'École Sup de Co Montpellier (France) en Affaires Internationales. Je fais notamment en parallèle, une 3ème année de BBA à La Trobe University à Melbourne (Australie) en International Business (en e-learning). J'aurai si tout se passe bien le double diplôme FrancoAustralien en avril 2008! (on y croit!). Je viens de finir une année en tant que stagiaire dans l'Administration des Ventes Export de Cacharel et je souhaite faire mon prochain et dernier stage en Australie dans l'Export, de préférence dans le milieu de l'aéronautique et de la vente de matériel de hautes technologies ou de biotechnologies... Sinon pour ceux qui me connaissent, je suis toujours un hardant sportif et un amoureux de la nature! Bien à vous"

-----From February 2006 AALFNY Newsletter-----

● Armelle Wiart wrote: "I have recently graduated from McGill University with a double major in political science and sociology after three years. I am now working in a private equity firm as assistant to the director."

-----From June 2005 AALFNY Newsletter-----

● Benjamin Teper nous écrit: "Après avoir passé une année à l'École Hôtelière de Lausanne en Suisse et une année à Boston University, je fais un stage dans une agence de pub (Interbrand) à New York depuis le mois de Janvier en attendant de transférer dans une université américaine du côté de Miami ou Boston pour la rentrée 2005. Je travaille également sur un projet pour les "Awards" à l'International Academy of Television of Arts and Science. J'aimerais avoir des nouvelles de la promotion 2002."

From top to bottom: Julia Martellozo ('02); Youssouf Coulibaly ('02); Daria Vlasova ('02)

-----From Winter 2003-2004 AALFNY Newsletter-----

● Eve de la Mothe Karoubi wrote: "I am studying abroad in South Africa this semester and will be returning to the States for spring semester at Amherst College."

● Jonathan Teper wrote: "During the fall'03 semester, I transferred into Tufts' College of Liberal Arts where I now a 3rd year student of quantitative economics. I have a strong interest in entrepreneurial leadership, economic theory, international affairs, and cross cultural analyses.....I am currently developing an initiative aimed at consolidating of entrepreneurial resources at Tufts with YET (the Young Entrepreneurs at Tufts organization).....I traveled to Latin America during the summer of 2003, and there developed an interest in Latin American politics and sustaining economic development, particularly in Ecuador and I plan on returning there during this summer!....I have worked as a program designer for ISO Healthcare Consulting, and as a business analyst for Monitor Consulting."

TOP to BOTTOM: Alicia Benwaiche ('02), Clemence Repoux ('02), Thierno Achy ('02)